November 11, 2018
The Thirty-Second Sunday in Ordinary Time

The Gospel today cautions us: hypocrisy and inauthenticity are worse than useless. Putting on a show of righteousness will fool no one, and it certainly does not do the deceiver any good. Instead, we should cultivate authentic giving, like the poor widow who gave her last coins. Our gifts and our lives should be offered with humility and abandonment. If we grip tightly onto our last coin, we block God, grace and the potential of being transformed for our greatest good. The tale of the poor widow is meant to spark a conversion of the heart. It calls us to great openness. It is a big risk to surrender everything of value; when we surrender to a merciful God, it is called trust.

Today is also Remembrance Day, a day when we honour men and women who gave their lives in the pursuit of peace. Their self-offering was an act of hope. This is also a day when we are reminded of the horrors of war and of some of the worst aspects of our shared human nature. Our Gospel today underlines the necessity of each person accepting and relying on God's grace and goodness. Peace comes in every moment of conversion, away from the darkness in our hearts and in the world. When we turn toward the Lord, and offer Him everything, we make room for peace to break in.

'Vocation Seeds'

Thirty-Second Sunday in Ordinary Time (November 11)
How are you contributing to the treasury? God knows what gift we give to Him in love. Let us then be faithful to whatever vocation God calls us to live. Does Jesus want you to give your life to the Church? If you think that God is calling you to serve Him as a priest, religious or deacon visit the website: www.vocationtoronto.ca; www.franciscans.org or speak with one of the friars.

And Now, A Word from Our Pastor

Fifty-three years ago, Pope St. Paul VI stood before the Assembly of the United Nations and begged: "No more war. War never again." The cry still goes up to heaven today.

This Remembrance Day is particularly poignant. One hundred years have passed since the signing of the Armistice that ended the Great War. And we remember. We remember those who left home so that others might have a home. Those who fought so that others might have peace. Those who died so that others might live.

To the men and women who serve in the armed forces today, we offer a prayer for safety. To the veterans who served so honourably in days past, we offer our thanks. And for the women and men who made the sacrifice of their lives for others, we ask the fullness of light and life.

We commend †Katherine Doyle into the hands of our God and pray for the gift of peace to her family as they mourn her passing.
